REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Independent Claims 19 and 36 teach the limitations "wherein said first part of said associated active session is different from said second part of said associated active session; and wherein said first action comprises: determining a second server computer system for providing said first session associated active session; determining whether said first and second computer systems are the same server computer system; and redirecting said connection of said secondary Human Interface Device to said second server computer system, if said first and second server computer systems are not the same server." in combination with the dependent claims 20-35.

The prior art does not teach the cited limitation.

The Trueblood reference teaches clients interaction with a single server managing sessions for display. The Bakoglu reference teaches clients connecting directly to each other and redirecting connection through a telephone network to create a session. The Wang reference teaches a first client and first and second server devices communicating and transferring a connection but never states a second client in an associated session.

No prior art reference of record implements or suggests all the limitations of the claimed limitation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
